Avoid Employee Lawsuits:

Tips & Secrets to Make Sure You Stay Out of Court

Tuesday, February 20, 2018 at 2 p.m. (Eastern)

In a very lively and interactive session, Jessica Shpall Rosen, a management-side employment attorney and speaker, provokes discussion on some of today's biggest questions facing employers. Her years of experience representing employers have given her insight into the costly world of employment litigation and government audits. The discussion will focus primarily on the most innovative preventative tools available to employers today.

Some of the more important questions to be addressed include:

- Is employment-at-will a myth?
- How do you fire a toxic employee without a nasty lawsuit?
- Can salaried employees sue you for overtime pay?
- Is there any value to a non-compete agreement?
- And much more

Jessica Shpall Rosen regularly advises employers on a range of employment and personnel management issues, in addition to her litigation practice. She also provides management training on many employment-related subjects, including sexual harassment prevention. As a former Spanish translator and interpreter, Jessica uses her language skills to conduct interviews and trainings in Spanish.

Jessica works with New York, New Jersey and California clients in many industries, including healthcare, retail, entertainment, financial services, professional services, insurance, and nonprofit organizations.
